Summer in the City

Last-minute camp options for tots

May 23, 2011

Camp culture starts early for NYC kids. More and more, the City's popular summer camps are opening their doors to the under-3 set. And though summer officially kicks off this weekend, it's not too late: there are still a few spaces available at the following toddler programs.

The Chelsea play space offers its campers (ages 3-4) dramatic play, music and storytelling, cooking, science, construction, and craft activities. Options range from two days per week ($522 member/$580 nonmember for two weeks) to five days per week ($1,125 member, $1,250 non-member for two weeks).
