

Apple Seeds Opens Upper West Side Play Space

7/02/2012

apple seeds, the all-in-one children's play space, whose flagship is based in New York City's Chelsea/Flatiron district, has branched out and opened a second NYC location at 200 West End Avenue.

photo credit: apple seeds blog

Located in a family-friendly Upper West Side and close to multiple schools and parks, apple seeds will cater to families with children from newborn to five years old. The new space will have indoor features including:

photo credit: apple seeds blog

- Indoor Playground. The nearly 2,000 square foot indoor playground contains seven children's museum-like exhibits as well as a gym-and-play space. The apple seeds playground is available to members every hour that apple seeds is open, seven days a week.
- The Perfect Class. apple seeds classes are engaging, entertaining, and are guaranteed to fascinate the most inquisitive minds. Five classrooms offer classes in music, art, movement, soccer, cooking, science, construction, ballet and more. Classes begin July 2nd and registration is open now.
- Birthday Celebrations. Providing an array of fun parties for kids turning one and up, the apple seeds birthday celebration is an all-inclusive experience allowing families to relax and truly enjoy the special day. Families can choose from 11 party themes ranging from music to sports, to animals, to cooking, princesses and pirates, construction, dinosaurs and more.

For more information, please visit: www.appleseedsplay.com